

The background of the entire image is a festive collage. At the top, there are draped curtains in the colors of the French flag: red, white, and blue. Below this, the background is a dark night sky filled with various fireworks in red, white, and blue. Scattered throughout are several five-pointed stars in red, white, and blue. On the left side, a small French flag is visible. The overall theme is the celebration of Bastille Day (July 14th).
